LOVELY LITTLE CHAMBRAY SKIRTS--all washable--with large patch pockets adorned with a trapunto rose (quilted to you) and and a little hidden pocket for your change or keys or what not. The fashionable colors are citron, purple, navy, teal and green.

To be worn with these attractive skirts is a cute little blouse with knife pleats in the back. The dolman sleeves add to the comfort and the collar coming to a point in the back gives an extra dash. Smartness and comfort are beautifully blended in this ingenious blouse, which is available in a galaxy of colors--green, lilac, yellow, blue, red, brown, cream, lime and black.

If your taste dictates something tailored in a blouse, HARRIET DUNCAN APPAREL SHOP, on 6th and Lincoln, has a twin-stitched tailored one--the stitching is along the edge of the collar and outlines the vest-like effect in the front. This, too, is a garment of many colors--chartreuse, navy, blue, royal blue, red, cream, orange, black and brown. So hi yourselves to this shop that puts the emphasis on separates if you are the practical gal with an eye to the future--the long summer days ahead when comfort and smartness must both be considered.

SPECIAL THIS WEEKEND are the fresh ranch eggs in assorted sizes and fryers at 49 cents a pound--at MAC'S POULTRY on San Carlos and Fifth. Young ducks for roasting and fresh killed rabbits, and roasting chickens should not be overlooked--if you are budget conscious. Mrs. Ladd of MAC'S POULTRY is up on how to keep her prices down. Her neat little store is the right place to go and stock up on your piece de resistance for the weekend.

A SHAPED-TO-THE-HEAD HAIRCUT--the result--"Supple Silhouette," by MR. WOODWARD, hair stylist in the San Carlos Hotel, Monterey. Versatility is the keynote of the longer short hair this season--a style that's adaptable and flattering to all age groups. It is bound to meet with feminine approval. The technique that Mr. Woodward uses to achieve this medium short haircut is a brief but basic step and assures varied, fluid lines...and makes you want to have the sunlight play in your hair. Not only is the styling good, but the shining cleanliness of a thorough shampoo and other beautician magic gives you that self assurance that goes hand in hand with good grooming. MR. WOODWARD, hair stylist, on the mezzanine floor of the San Carlos Hotel, who can do this for you, is a beautician who truly appreciates feminine pulchritude.

A GLORIOUS WAY OF GOING BAREFOOT is to wear Ho-gans, the brain child of Rose Hogan, famed designer of Ho-gans, Hobans and Hoganos, whose outlet in Carmel is the ROSE BROWN SHOP in the Pine Inn.

Miss Hogan, prior to World War II, designed lingerie and negligees for Howard Greer and Bess Schlank of Hollywood, whose names need no introduction to you. She also designed everything made in China and Japan for the Associated Merchandising Corporation, the buying power for 35 outstanding American stores, including Bullock's in Los Angeles, Burdines in Florida and Lewis Ayres in Cleveland.

When the war ended Miss Hogan, while experimenting, designed a plastic shower shoe. As so often happens, friends saw in this shoe a replica in suede and the famed Ho-gan was born. Ho-gans are casual suede shoes that are perfect for every kind of informal wear--television listening, patio wear, and folk dancing. They are very popular with traveling men who want to relax during their air trips and like to slip them on as soon as they are seated in a plane. They have become so popular because they look well, fit well, stay on the heel, and are easy to pack. In fact Ho-gans, Hoganos and Hobans all come packaged in flat little plastic bags.

ROSE BROWN, owner of the ROSE BROWN SHOP, influenced Miss Hogan to design women's belts, Ho-bans, and now she has been rewarded by having a top American designer contributing to her stock. Ho-bans are contour belts, also of suede. Hoganos are casual suede hats. Both these clever accessories are perfect with knits, suits and dresses. For a little whimsy in one's costume one hat has a cute little dwarf adorning it, and milady can walk down the street feeling very smart, for her conversation piece goes right along with her.

SPECTATOR OFFERS 250,000 EXTRA VOTES THIS WEEK ONLY

The largest extra vote offer to be made before the close of The CARMEL SPECTATOR'S great Circulation-Travel Club is in force this week.

A grand bonus ballot for 250,000 extra votes will be awarded the club member who turns in the largest amount of money on subscriptions to the CARMEL SPECTATOR between Wednesday, April 11, and Tuesday, April 17, at 5:30 P.M.

After the grand ballot has been awarded, the three club members in each district who turn in the most money on subscriptions will each receive--for first, 200,000 bonus votes; second, 175,000 bonus; and third, 150,000 bonus votes. These bonus votes are in addition to extra votes awarded each week on amounts of money on subscriptions.

All aspirants for one of the eight wonderful awards should try for one of these ballots, as they will go far toward the winning.

Candidates should get all the subscriptions they can NOW, as they will not receive so many extra points any time before Friday, May 18, 1951, the date decided upon for the closing of the Circulation-Travel Club, and the time when the club members will receive their awards.

An all-expense tour of Hawaii, or $500 cash, and $200 in cash are the two grand awards. After the grand awards have been given, the district awards of $100 and $50 will be given the two following, in each district. No club member can win two of the eight awards.

All workers who do not receive an award will be paid 50 cents for each annual subscription to The SPECTATOR turned in by them, so there will be no losers in this friendly competition.

There are a number of club members whose friends have given them many votes, but who have done no work themselves so far. After this week all who do not intend to compete in the race will be dropped from the list.

This is done in order to help the workers and to release subscriptions which may be held for someone who will not call for them. This is only fair both to the workers and to The SPECTATOR.

Mrs. W. M. Weeks of Carmel is leading the contest this week by a narrow margin over Miss Barbara Ann May of Carmel Unincorporated. Lee Conlan is next, and Miss Louise Harber follows. All these candidates are near the top of the list, as are Grant Risdon of Carmel Valley and Miss Nancy Dassonville of Carmel, Miss Peggy Glaser of Pebble Beach, Mrs. John Olson, Miss Ackroyd, Mrs. Emily Dempsey, also of Carmel. Mrs. Homer Lovejoy of Pacific Grove has a good start, as has Miss C. Boyd who resides at The Highlands.

FRANK LLOYD, ALFRED CASTLE NEW BOY SCOUT CAMP CHAIRMEN

The Monterey Bay Area Boy Scout Council has announced that Mr. Alfred C. Castle and Mr. Frank Lloyd have accepted the positions of chairman and co-chairman of the Camp Program Committee for the Monterey Peninsula. The work of the committee is to raise funds for the development of a permanent camp for the Boy Scouts of the Tri-County area which will be located on the North Fork of the Little Sur. The purchase of 1370 acres of land in that area was made possible by a generous gift of $20,000 from the William Randolph Hearst Foundation Inc.

Mr. Castle, chairman of the Camp Program Committee, is well known on the Monterey Peninsula for his many activities. He has been an active member of the Navy League for many years and now holds the position of National Vice-President for the 12th District. Mr. Castle, who is also chairman of the board for the A.N. Castle Co., has been a resident of the Monterey Peninsula for the past five years.

Mr. Lloyd's interest in the Boy Scouts began when he met Lord Baden Powell, the founder of the Boy Scout Movement. For many years he god-fathered a Boy Scout Troop in Topanga Canyon in Los Angeles. Mr. Lloyd is widely known as the director of many well-remembered and enjoyed pictures that are now classics--"Wells Fargo," "Mutiny on the Bounty," "Cavalcade," "If I Were King," "The Spoilers," "Divine Lady."

NO COMMUNIST TIME TABLE, SAYS DR. FISHER AT LINE SCHOOL LECTURE

That there is no Communist time table to achieve a certain objective within a certain time, and that the Communist party supports today whatever is expedient at the moment, playing on the sympathies of the greatest number of people, were points stressed by Dr. Harold H. Fisher, Chairman of the Hoover Institute and Library of Stanford University, who last week was the fourth speaker in the International Relations Lecture Series being held at the Navy Line School.

Speaking on "The Soviet Union: World Strategy and Tactics," Dr. Fisher, a former relief administration official under Herbert Hoover and widely traveled in the Soviet Union, cited Russia's paradoxical ability to completely reverse its stand on an issue in its quest for world domination.

He also pointed out Russia's propensity to profit by every weak strategic point in the diplomatic and social armor of the non-Communist world. Fortunately however, Dr. Fisher believes, the national integrity and civic courage shown by such free nations as Finland can successfully counter Russian propaganda and diplomatic tactics.

The lecture series is for students of the General Line School. For the first time in the school's history, a limited civilian audience is also being admitted to share a course.

Here's where You come into your own

Once in a while, any man is entitled to let himself go.

He's entitled to that glow of pride that comes from feeling like the very important person that he really is.

He's entitled to take practical steps to make his dreams come true.

In short, he's entitled to own a ROADMASTER, and particularly a ROADMASTER as it is custom built for '51.

For this great automobile is more than big and roomy and distinguished in its styling.

It's more than sweetly willing in performance, and superbly poised in stride.

It does things to you, when you let yourself sink deep down in the subtle softness of its cushions, and run a caressing hand over the fine texture of its fabrics.

This is everything a fine car should be!

Of course, this brilliant performer is Fireball powered. It is cushioned by coil springs on every wheel. It provides, at no extra cost, the complete relaxation of Dynaflow Drive. It has durable and dependable sturdiness engineered into every mechanical part.

But the best is yet to be told. When you check the ROADMASTER price list, you'll find that the car of your choice can be yours for hundreds of dollars less than you'll pay for others with comparable reputation.

Come in soon and see this buy of buys in the fine-car field.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

CREATING OPPORTUNITY

It has been said that there are more opportunities at the top than there are men to fill the jobs. That's hard sometimes for the young man who is well down the ladder to believe. He hears--and sometimes voices--the complaint that there isn't as much opportunity as there used to be.

People who should know, that is, men who have worked their way to posts of responsibility, point out that opportunities are wide open. What is needed is to approach them in the right way. In talking before a San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting recently, Sam B. Stewart, Jr., vice president and general counsel of Bank of America, made this suggestion: Get yourself "adopted" by the boss.

"The boss is seeking assistanct," said Stewart, "because he is looking ahead to the day when he too may move on to still broader responsibilities, or perhaps to retirement." But how can the young man get these responsibilities delegated to him? "I found out," the banker explained, "that there is no better way to have a responsibility thrust upon you than to make suggestions--good suggestions, of course--to the man who has the responsibility now. The inevitable response is, 'Fine, you do it!'"

That advice, coming from a man who has tried it and proved it successful, is something which any young man who wants to get ahead should think over and put it to use.

NOTICE

A survey of the housing potential of the Carmel area is being made jointly by the Housing Committee of the Red Cross Disaster Relief and the Office of Civilian Defense. The Carmel Board of Realtors is conducting the survey for the Office of Civilian Defense, and all those who rent rooms, apartments or guest houses on daily or weekly rates are asked to call Mr. John Geisen at 7-3887.

People Are Wonderful

You will remember my new acquaintance of the Monterey gas station from my first article. Recently, when I was again in this station of the chap who formerly had the milk route in Carmel, there came one of the representatives of the head office of the oil company. We had a most interesting three-way conversation.

Have you ever seen one of the calendars of "Jim's Liquor Den?" It depicts one of the most beautiful nude women you could hope to see. Now, of course, there is probably nothing more beautiful than the human female figure when it is near perfection. Artists always have known this--and the appeal is general. Jim of the Liquor Den had evidently had this conviction for some time, as there were six of his calendars hanging beside each other on the wall of the bootblack stand where I saw them--one for each year up to and including 1951--each a surprisingly beautiful nude. Quite interesting.

To return to the meeting at the gas station--our three-way conversation was somewhat desultory until I noticed a calendar on the wall. The owner of the station, only a few days in the place, admitted he had not previously noticed it. It was quite large but not prominently displayed. This was the calendar of Clyde N. Young, Studebaker agent on Munras Street, Monterey. It pictured a pleasant looking and well dressed man, perhaps in his middle thirties, sitting beside an equally pleasant looking and well dressed woman of about the same age; also two sweet young girls, seated in a church pew beside their parents. The artist must have been really good as the facial expressions seemed to be perfect--the whole thing fine and clean and beautiful and very unusual. All three of us decided that Mr. Clyde N. Young must be a pretty fine person to choose that sort of subject for his advertising material.

The conversation now became centered--three business men discussing God. Any one of them alone would probably have talked about anything else with you. The head office man is "on the road" but generally gets home to Oakland for the weekend to be with his family. He is a vestryman in his church, and his wife always packs a Bible for him in his grip. He "makes" all the small towns up and down the coast. Frequently at night he retires to his room and reads his Bible. His 19-year-old daughter is an authority on biblical subjects. He gave me his card but I have misplaced it. I am sure his name was Peterson.

The gas station man is much in sympathy with God and his personal religion is important to him. And this poor writer is just now the recipient of the goodness of God and very grateful. Does it seem strange to you that, in these days, three men who did not know one another should meet and discuss for a full hour subjects of a spiritual nature--and fully enjoy themselves? Actually, we must be in a tremendous majority. People really are wonderful inside.

STUDY CAUSES OF CANCER

Researchers at a world-wide cancer conference in Paris theorized that cancer results from many rather than a single cause. Such factors as degenerative changes in tissue are believed to combine with outside agents of this modern industrial era to cause cancer. Research into cancer's causes is supported by funds from the American Cancer Society. Give to the 1951 Cancer Crusade.

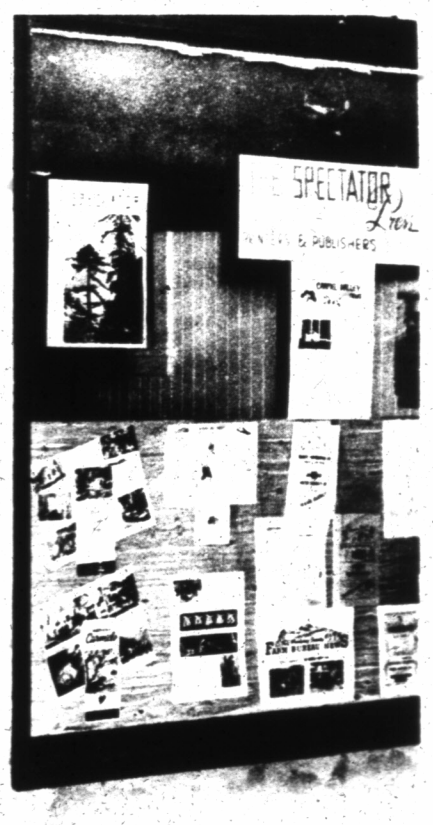
7 P.M. TO 3 A.M. WITH THE CARMEL POLICE DEPARTMENT.....



JUST PROMOTED to the new rank of sergeant on Carmel's police force, Earl R. Wermuth is the department's veteran officer, now rounding out his 21st year of duty. These photographs show at random why there's seldom a dull moment on the sergeant's night watch. His 7 p.m. to 3 a.m. shift covers the busiest hours in the job of crime prevention and detection.

1--On routine patrol of hotel parking areas, Sgt. Wermuth's experienced eyes discover a double invitation to thieves. Here he leaves a note warning car-owner against leaving fur coat hanging on window as tempting bait. See that unlocked trunk compartment? He spotted it, too.

2--Inspection of luggage compartment reveals items of interest to car-clouters who prey upon tourists if they get the chance. Shoes, boots and even a bit of bourbon. Thanks to watchful Sgt. Wermuth, the owner of this auto was warned in time to prevent loss.

3--Night in and night out, the sergeant makes a thorough check on foot through the business district, trying doors and windows to see that they are secure. The SPECTATOR's face is a bit red, for he found our own front door unlatched a couple of times.

4--Finding a penny gum machine wrenched from a store front, Sgt. Wermuth brings it to the station for close inspection. Here he dusts it with special powders to "develop" latent fingerprints found on the jar.

5--Next step in the gum machine case is preserving the fingerprints as evidence. Sgt. Wermuth is seen photographing them with a camera especially designed for the purpose. The prints are then filed for comparison with any similar cases.

6--Plaster casts of tire imprints are Sgt. Wermuth's pet detail, as he is an expert on them. "Batter" is gently poured into a frame placed over tread marks, then the cast is removed when it "sets" within a few minutes. Sprayer contains lacquer, which is applied before plaster to stiffen loose sand.

7--This car suffered hit-run damage on the door while parked unattended. Assisted by Patrolman William M. Weeks, Sgt. Wermuth studies the exact nature of the dent, seeking "transfers" of paint from the other auto, which often is clinching evidence in identifying the offender.

8--End of the watch finds the sergeant scanning his notes taken during the night's tour of duty and writing up reports of complaint and other investigations. Photographs by ART MCEWEN.

CONCERT PIANIST AT HILL THEATER SUNDAY

On Sunday, April 15, Carmel Hill Theater will be the setting for an unusual musical event. The concert pianist Gerhart Muench will give an evening performance, playing works by Frescobaldi, Bach, Chopin, Debussy, Ravel, Tscherepine, Scriabine, Muench and Castelnuovo-Tedesco.

The pianist and composer was born in Dresden, Germany, in 1907, beginning the study of the piano at the age of three under the tutelage of his father, Ernst Muench, a professor at the Dresden Conservatory. At an early age he became an established figure in the musical life of his native city.

Muench came to the United States in 1947, teaching, as the successor to Ernst Krenek, composition and theory at the Southern California School of Music and Art, in Los Angeles. He has recently taken out United States citizenship, and is living at present in the Big Sur, devoting himself to composing. Among his most recent compositions is a piece entitled "Labyrinth" for harp, oboe, bass-clarinet and viola. Since making the United States his permanent home, Muench has written a one-act opera, a string quartet, a quintet and several pieces for the piano, two of which he will include in this program.

ARTISTS AND MODELS BALL SET FOR APRIL 28

Bohemia will come alive at the Artists' and Models' Ball, scheduled for Saturday, April 28, at the Mission Ranch, by the artists of the New Group. The evening of dancing and gala entertainment promises to transport the arm-chair travelers to the narrow streets and the dusky cafes of the Paris Latin Quarter.

The Mission Ranch will be transformed with dashing murals of the crooked alleys and the sidewalk cafes of Utrillo and the gaudy circuses and night life of Lautrec. Flower vendors and street singers will wander through the crowds of artists and their friends, and dashes of apache color, berets and flowing ties, and sur-realist headgear, will creat again for one brief evening, the spirit of Bohemia. Whether costumed or plainly dressed, everyone is asked to come gay in spirit.

The artists of the New Group are nailing up posters to remind everyone that tickets are selling for the remarkably low price of $1.25, and that all proceeds will go directly toward the establishment of a small Gallery for these painters and sculptors to call their own.

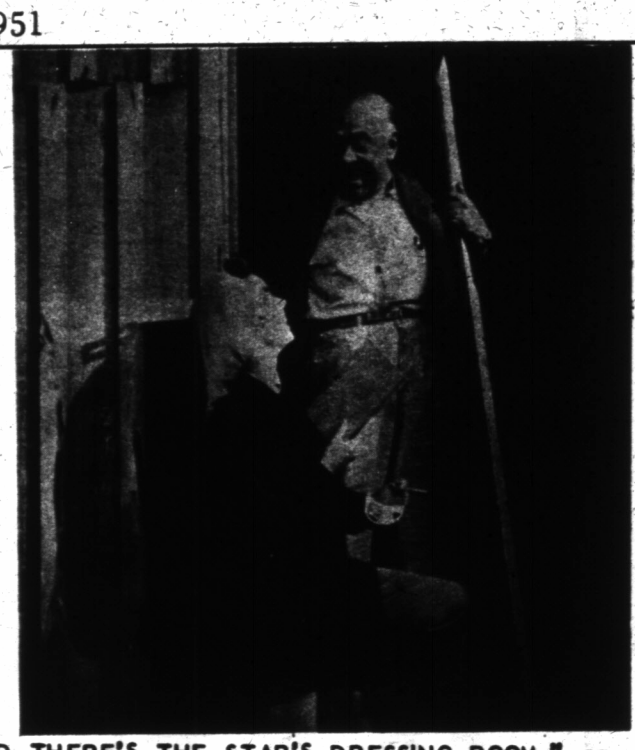
LOWELL THOMAS JR. SLATED FOR APRIL 21

Lowell Thomas, Jr., returns to the Pacific Coast to give again his great adventure story, "Out of this World--A Journey to Lasha." He will appear in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium on Saturday evening, April 21, under Alice Seckels' management.

The recent journey of the two Thomases, father and son, to this forbidden city was just about the most widely publicized trip in recent years, for since 1949 only six Americans have ever entered the Dalai Lama's mysterious realm hidden behind the towering Himalayas. In Tibet, the two American travelers had the feeling they were completely off this planet -- out of this world. Among the monasteries they visited and filmed was Drepung, home of 10,000 monks and lamas. The all color movies taken by Thomas are breathtaking in their color, and shots of the majestic Hamalayas are something to remember.

Thomas, Jr., is a Dartmouth graduate, where he was a ski enthusiast and specialist. He was a pilot and officer in World War II, and is returning to the Air Force after this speaking tour.

Reserved seats for this lecture and film are on sale at the Browse-Around Shop in Carmel and at Abinante's in Monterey.



"AND THERE'S THE STAR'S DRESSING ROOM," says summer theater producer Ken Smith to Mrs. Parker Kimball of Carmel Valley, as they take a tour of Smith's new theatrical venture soon to open in the Valley.

Well along toward completion is the Carmel Valley Barn Theater, under the direction of this well known and energetic Peninsula theater group organizer and actor, who recently sold his interest in the Wharf Theater.

The new "Barn Theater" will stage its productions, beginning within a few weeks, in the barn commonly known as the "DeAmarral Barn," located on the Los Laureles Lodge property, about 11 miles up the Carmel Valley. As well as a riding stable the building has been used at various times as a motion picture theater and for amateur theatricals.

Extensive remodeling now in progress includes 175 regulation upholstered the theater seats set in tiers and staggered for better visibility. The raised stage will have a velour curtain. The building will be insulated, ventilated and heated for cold weather.

Smith said while he planned the theater principally as a Carmel Valley group, outside actors and directors would be used as needed. He stressed his desire to keep it a non-professional group.

Construction work is scheduled for completion within the month. Date of the official opening has not been announced, but Smith stated that announcement of readings for the first play will soon be made.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

Perhaps it's because Carmel itself is different that it attracts so many people whose lives have been "full of a number of things." Shelburn Robison, our this week's "Who Is It?," is no exception, for although he is now a lawyer, law has by no means been his only vocation.

Born in New Mexico in a little mining town, where his father was "company doctor," he quite naturally became interested in mining engineering. Family pressures, however, since his uncle is Admiral S. S. Robison, slated him for Annapolis, in spite of a scholarship at Arizona. Fate in the form of a family move back into New Mexico from Douglas, Arizona, took him out of the jurisdiction of his appointment.

Despite a B.S. in mining engineering, as well as being second honor man in his class, he was still not to spend his life with shafts and ore cars. This time baseball, in which much and early practice with Lewis Douglas when the two had been mining town kids together, took his team to Washington, D.C. While staying there in the home of Admiral Clark of Organ-around-the-Horn fame, Robison applied--of all things for a near-Navy cadet--for admission into the Army. Upon passing the necessary examinations, he was "in"--2nd lieutenant in field artillery. Then the war...and ten months in France.

Although a later offer after he returned to this country might have taken him into the teaching of geology at Penn State, Robison decided that he "was in the Army now"--and that was it. In 1921, on Armistice Day, it was his battery which was chosen to officiate at the burial in Arlington of the Unknown Soldier. Not only was this ceremony of national significance, but the use at the time of a sound system which carried the services to Times Square marked a new high in broadcasting.

Graduation in 1923 from the Field Artillery School at Ft. Sill brought the desire for an Eastern appointment. Fate, again johnny-on-the-spot, decreed that it was to be western--the Presidio at Monterey. This time it really was Fate, for there he met a real "native daughter," Helen Wright, daughter of Monterey's mayor, great, great granddaughter of a signer of California's constitution, and great, great niece of one of the first white men to see Yosemite. He and his new wife lived in the "Storr House" next to Colton Hall, and there their first child, Robin Elaine, was born in Pecheco House.

Honolulu and Ft. Scofield for three years were next on the "itinerary," and then Ft. Lewis--a severe injury there--and eventually Letterman General Hospital.

Teaching next! Military tactics and science at Letterman, and later work as head of the military department at Santa Clara rounded out the teaching phase of this "checkered career."

A new idea--law! Graduation from the University of San Francisco in 1934 was followed by the passing of the bar exams of New Mexico, and later those of California. Soon after coming to Carmel to live, Mr. Robison was appointed attorney for the Carmel Sanitary Commission, which office he has held since 1937. He was president of the Carmel Business Association from 1937 to 1941, and has been president of the Carmel school board, having given out some of the first diplomas to graduating students. And so the baseball-playing, near-cadet, teacher-colonel practices law in an attractive upstairs office on Carmel's Ocean Avenue!

"FOLDING HILLS" by E. Cashion MacLennan, of Carmel, who will hold a "one-man" show of her recently painted water colors in the Carmel Art Association Galleries April 15 to 30 inclusive. The exhibition will include, among others, paintings from sketches made along the California coast, in the Ozarks, at Yosemite, and in the desert about Palm Springs. Mrs. MacLennan also works in oil, lithography and fresco; and her work, which has been shown in important galleries both in the East and the West, has been praised by such well known critics in the East as Royal Cortissoz, Margaret Bruening and Dorothy Adlow; and in the West by Reginald Poland of San Diego, Donald Bear, editor of the art section of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and Arthur Millier of the Los Angeles Times.

Mrs. MacLennan is listed in "Who's Who in Art," "Who's Who on the Pacific Coast," and in other national publications. She plans to be at the gallery on the three Sundays of her exhibition.

HERBERT EXHIBIT PLEASES

Hundreds of art lovers have been flocking to the gallery of the Artists Guild of America to see the unusual exhibit of paintings and sculpture by the talented Barbara Herbert, of San Francisco.

Miss Herbert's canvases, which for the most part are flower studies, have a strength and force sometimes lacking in women painters, and the same applies to her sculpture, which is outstanding and thought-stimulating.

Examples of her sculpture include a marble torso of exceptionally fluid grace, the famous bronze bust of Clemenceau and a lovely plaster madonna. Notable among her smaller paintings is her Christus, a hauntingly beautiful portrait of the Christ.

Exotic pastels and unusual finger paintings, reflecting the manual dexterity of the sculptor, round out this exhibit, which will continue through April 28.

The Artists Guild of America gallery is open daily from 1 to 6 p.m., Thursdays until 9 p.m., and is on Monte Verde near Ocean Avenue.

VACATIONING IN EAST

Mrs. Joshua Emerson left by TWA from San Francisco on Sunday last for a month's vacation in New York and North Carolina. Mrs. Emerson will return early in May to resume her association with William N. Eklund, realtor.

WANT THE WAYFARER HOUSE?

Plans long in the making are about to be consummated for the expansion of the Church of the Wayfarer. Several years ago the church purchased the property on the northwest corner of Lincoln and Seventh for $40,000. Renamed the Wayfarer House, it is used partly as a Sunday school and partly as a Welcome House for the Armed Forces.

To make way for a new building the church is offering the house itself to the highest bidder--to be carted away in pieces or as a whole. Telephone 7-6658 for further information.

Mrs. Barbara Murphy, chairman of the "Welcome Cottage" has called a meeting for Tuesday, at 3 p.m., at the Carmel City Hall, to discuss the future of Carmel's servicemen's activities, now that a new home will have to be found. All interested organizations and individuals are invited to attend.
